

75 FREE Street Trees Help Mark the 75th Anniversary of the San Lorenzo Village

In the 1940s and the 1950s, streets throughout the Village were lined with trees. While street trees are no longer as prevalent as they once were in the community, the Village has an opportunity to bring some of the scenic beauty back to the area. In 2020, the Board was able to secure 75 street trees to be planted throughout the Village. In connection with Alameda County, the new trees will be purchased and installed free of charge for interested homeowners as part of a grant program. Beginning in March through June, the HOA will arrange for the 15-gallon trees to be planted in homeowner's front yards within the right-of-way. While the London Plane, also known as the San Lorenzo Village Heritage Tree, is the most common type of tree in the community, both the London Plane and the October Glory Maple will be potential options for homes located on the non-power line side of the streets. Homeowner's on the power line side can plant a Trident Maple. Homeowners will be responsible for watering & maintaining the trees.
